Night Riders at Big Rock.

Information has reached here of another raid by "coon hunters" Wednesday midnight in Stewart county, Tenn., below Lafayette, near Big Rock. A large body of men, masked and armed, rode into a negro settlement and set fire to Red Top church. It was the second colored church burned in the neighborhood recently. Several negroes were dragged from their homes and whipped. Two or three were so badly maltreated that they are in the care of physicians. All the negroes were warned to leave the community.

CHANCE TO MAKE KENTUCKY GREATEST HOG RAISING STATE

10,000 Hogs Fattened From Slops and Distillers' Dried Grains In Daviess County Alone Last Year

(By Stephen Holmes, in Bourbon Stock Journal).

Kentucky can easily be made the greatest hog-raising State in the Union. That has been demonstrated by Daviess county farmers. Last year about 10,000 hogs were fattened in that county on distillers' slops and dried grains.

So successful were the experiments that the L. H. & St. L. railroad provided switches along their lines for the use of farmers to utilize this by-product of the distilleries for feeding Officially Tested Out.

The official tests of this feed have been very satisfactory in every way. It has the stamp of approval of the best chemists in the agricultural world. Men from experiment stations who know all about food values of different grains and foods have given it the highest recommendation.

The richest agricultural States in the Union are those which lead in hog production. Iowa, with its vast field of corn; Illinois, Missouri and Indiana in the order named, have thousands hogs. Special tank cars were also provided for the transportation of both the slops and dried grains.

Makes Prize Winners.

At a great barbecue on the Owensboro Fair Grounds last May, attended by 20,000 farmers and feeders, there were on exhibition scores of fine hogs fattened on distillers' dried grains and slops, and many cash prizes were awarded. Officials from the agricultural department of the State and Federal Government were present and made addresses on the proper care and feeding of hogs and the prevention of cholera. Specimens of distillers' dried grains and slops from various distilleries were also on exhibition and their respective food value were explained by experts.

Fattens Quickly.

One of the greatest advantages in feeding distillers' dried grain is the fact that nothing is lost. The distillers remove only the non-fattening portions of the grain, leaving an average of 40 per cent of protein, which is the element required to fatten stock. It has been supposed by many people that the best way to fatten a hog is to feed hard corn. But corn in the natural state yields about 13 per cent of protein, as much of it passes through the animal undigested. Distillers' dried grains therefore possess about three times the fattening properties of natural corn. By feeding these dried grains with alfalfa, clover or other green stuffs, hogs fatten quicker and better than by the use of corn alone and at very much less cost.

The Farmer's Opportunity.

The greatest single industry in Kentucky is its distilleries. This industry pays more taxes for the maintenance of the State than all other manufacturing industries combined. Thousands of tons of slops containing nutritious, fat-producing elements are dumped into the waste heap simply because Kentucky feeders have not wakened up to their opportunity. A comparatively small portion of this by-product is dried and shipped to Europe to be used as dairy feed and for fattening hogs.

But why ship any of these dried grains to Denmark and Holland when we can use them here at home up to the full capacity of every distillery in the State, thereby increasing the profits of hog-raising and adding many millions of dollars annually to the wealth of the farmers of the state.

Cheaper Feed Than Corn.

Farmers should sell the corn they raise at the high price it usually brings, and buy, for less money, more and better feed in the form of distillers' dried grains. By doing this they can fatten more hogs at less cost and sell them in the market for larger profits. It is a simple business proposition that should not be overlooked by the farmer.

LET'S MAKE KY. THE BIGGEST HOG RAISING STATE

Mr. Weathers' Successor.

Mr. M. O. Lowry, assistant cashier of the Ghent Deposit bank at Ghent, Ky., has been selected as cashier of the bank of Lafayette, to succeed Cashier Ed L. Weathers, who will come here on March 1 to assume his duties as active vice-president of the First National bank, a position to which he was recently elected.

The Eugenics bill passed by the Indiana House was killed in the Senate. It provided that persons seeking marriage licenses should be examined by a physician and pronounced physically and mentally "fit."

Some Record.

The newspaper has made presidents, killed poets; made bustles for beauties and punished genius with criticism. It has curtailed the power of kings, converted bankers into paupers and graced pantry shelves. It has made paupers college presidents, it has educated the poor and robbed the philosopher of his reason; it smiles, cries, dies, but it can't be run to suit everybody, and the man will be crazy who tries. Exchanging Cripples.

The first exchanges of disabled prisoners under Pope Benedict's plan were arranged at Berlin, Friday. One hundred and forty-six British prisoners unfit for further service will leave Germany February 16 and Great Britain will release 107 Germans. The exchanges apparently are not on a numerical basis, but all those who are disabled will be included within the scope of the order eventually.

Four Burglars.

Four negroes have been arrested at Trenton, charged with burglarizing stores. They claim to have been led by a white man whose name they did not know.

Russian cotton mills in 1913 consumed 1,700,000 bales of cotton, half of which was grown in Russia.
